Youthful Spouse Accuses Wife of Shooting Him

MARTINEZ, Sept. 25.—The shooting of Harold Murphy, 19 year old Alameda youth on the morning of September 12, first explained as an attempt at murder, then as a suicide try and again as accidental, took a fourth unexpected twist last night when Murphy's 17 year old wife, whose father is now seeking annulment of her marriage in Alameda County courts, was charged with shooting her youthful spouse and attempting to kill him with a loaded revolver with a deadly weapon. Murphy preferred the charge. His wife was released from custody on bail of $2500, immediately after being booked at the county jail.

Murphy following his release from the county hospital here was turned over to the Alameda County prosecutor on September 18. Local officers were informed that Murphy was on probation on a statutory charge.

Mrs. Murphy was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison at 654 Thirteenth street, Oakland, where she has been making her home since Murphy was shot near the Paul Traud ranch at Concord where Mrs. Murphy and her mother, Mrs. S. C. Wilson, were visiting at the time.

"I love my wife and I didn't want to make trouble," is Murphy's explanation of his changing stories of the shooting according to Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey.

Murphy charges now, according to Hoey, that his wife shot him in the Traud residence when he went into a bedroom occupied by Mrs. Murphy and her mother. Murphy claims to have had a small pistol in his vest pocket, which his wife saw and asked to handle. Murphy claims that he laid the pistol on a table and that his wife grabbed it and shot him.
His story is denied by both his wife and her mother. Hoey has not yet questioned other persons in the Traud household.

CRISSY FIELD, SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Like a mother who has been separated from her children San Francisco today welcomed to her bosom the three American round-the-world flyers, Lieutenant Smith, Wade and Nelson. The flyers hopped off from Santa Monica at 10:05 this morning, and landed at Crissy Field at 3:11 this afternoon.

Lieutenant Wade, who was forced to land in South San Francisco by battery trouble, resumed his flight, and rejoined his companions at the field at 4:03. Today there was cause to remember the disappointment in San Francisco when the world flyers who left Santa Monica on March 17, destined to bring lasting fame to America, passed by too far inland for the city by the golden gate to wave a loving farewell.

Now they, and equally with them, their daring aides, Lieutenants Harding, Arnold and Davidson, are heres of the world. The flyers and high army, navy and city officials attended a luncheon served at the field club house shortly after they arrived at the city.

Later they were taken by auto to a San Francisco hotel, where they plan to remain in seclusion. Changing their plans, they will remain here over Friday and hop off for Seattle at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Seattle is the official completion point for the world flight.

German War Loan Boom Collapses

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—The boom on German war loans in which many Americans had made speculations collapsed here today when the finance department announced it was unable to meet the interest or to assume responsibility for settlement above the rating of the paper mark.
The best it could promise to do is to set aside $12,000,000 for doles to original purchasers who are improving the collapse. A near panic took place in the stock exchange when the announcement was made and the war loan quotation was halved during the afternoon.

"Ma" Ferguson Is Asked to Withdraw

(By Universal Service)
AUSTIN, (Tex.), Sept. 25.—Following a stormy session at which Mrs.
Miriam "Ma" Ferguson was asked to withdraw her nomination for Governor by attorneys seeking an injunction to prevent her candidacy and that eventually resulted in her leaving the courtroom, Judge George Calhoun before whom the hearing has proceeded for four days, announced this afternoon that he would render his decision next Monday.

ROTARY PROGRAM

headed by P. M. Sanford, will have ced that the program will be something unusual. Lloyd Pockman is

SENIOR CLASS GIRLS GUESTS AT PARTY HERE

Are Entertained At Home of Miss Ethel Vestal; Plan Christmas
Charity Work

Graduating senior girls of the Richmond Union High school were entertained last night by a group of hostesses from the class at the home of Miss Ethel Vestal, 341 Twenty-third street. The hostesses were: Misses Clara Hoover, Vernice Otter, Clara Wallman, Gertrude Strohmaier, Frances Freethy and Ethel Vestal.

Decorations for the table and dining room were navy blue and red, the school colors. Delicious refreshments were served by the six hostesses. A genuine surprise was springing by Mrs. Vestal in the form of a class cake with the name of the class and the numerals decorating it.
A short business meeting was held and discussion was held on the time and place for the next party. The president, Miss Hoover, presided. Miss Kinneer, dean of girls, and the senior advisors, Miss Beauchamp and Miss Henderson, discussed the question of assisting the girls in charity work at Christmas time.

Many games were played and a short program was given under the direction of Clara Wallman. Frances Freethy gave a vocal solo while Ethel Vestal played a piano solo. Dancing and singing followed until 10 o'clock.
Those present included the Misses Clara Center, Evelyn Bengsten, Inga Soleim, Wilma Frazier, Lucella
Schell, Mae Hudson, Catherine Head, Alma Hudson, Viola Cox, Javita Fitzgerald, Florence Snelling, Margaret

Bold Bootlegger Uses Church Tower as Rum Storeroom

(By Universal Service)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—A boot-legger so bold that he "seized" the roof of a church in which prohibition has long been advocated, as a place to cache his supply of illicit beverages, came to light today when the Third District Court of Appeal affirmed the recent conviction of Geo.
A. Miller at Oroville.

The appellate judges denied Miller's petition for a new trial when the testimony of prohibition agents who described the Butte county man climbing a ladder to the flat roof of the church to secure gin and other intoxicants for patrons of his pool hall next door, was read.

The testimony spoke highly of Miller's supply of liquor on the roof, declaring that "he has as good whisky as there was in Oroville."

N. Y. Democrats Nominate Smith

(By Universal Service)
SYRACUSE, (N. Y.), Sept. 25.—The Democratic State convention of New York today
Cheered the name of Governor Alfred E. Smith.
Applauded that of John W. Davis
two minutes.
Gave a brief volley of hand applause to that of Charles W. Bryan.
Arose to its feet and yelled its approval of a denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan.

And then adjourned until tomorrow, while the leaders behind the scenes were wrestling with the unexpected attack made by Mayor Hylan against an alleged scheme within their ranks to "give" the New York Central and other railroads $300,000,000.

STOPS HERE
P. M. Snyder, of Topeka, Kansas, arrived in Richmond last night enroute to Sacramento, where he was called because of the death of his father. He was accompanied to Sacramento by his brother-in-law, Ed.
Clark and W. A. Clark, both of Richmond.

HIGHT LOSES IN FIRST STEP TO WIN FREEDOM

Requests for Special Session Of Grand Jury Denied by District Attorney

CASE DELAYED TILL OCTOBER

Clarence Darrows Expresses Hope That Poisoner Will Be Spared

(By Universal Service)

MT VERNON, (Ill.), Sept. 25.—Rev.
Lawrence Hight made his first plea in the battle for his life today and lost.

The minister, who is charged with poisoning his wife and persuading Mrs. Elsie Sweetin to poison her husband, so that they might satisfy their secret love, petitioned the district attorney to call a special term of the grand jury to hear his indictment, so that Hight might not have to endure the suspense of waiting longer than possible.

District Attorney Thompson refused. He told the minister that his case will come before the grand jury at its next regular convention, in October.

Darrows Hopes Hight
Will Be Spared

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Clarence Darrow expressed the hope tonight that Lawrence Hight might be spared the gallows. The great attorney who successfully defended Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb from hanging for the slaying of little Robert Franklin in the famous Chicago case, tonight said that Hight's confessed slaying of his wife and connivance in the poisoning of the husband of Mrs.
Elsie Sweetin, by Mrs. Sweetin, was easy to understand.

"The case is easily understood," Darrow said. "It was simply a question of primitive instinct struggling against the inhibitions which civilized man has built up. These instincts are the basis of life, and everyone must struggle with them, the result depending on the character and strength of the inhibitions in each individual. It had nothing to do with Hight's religion."

Darrow was one of few in Chicago who felt any sympathy for Hight.
There was more sympathy for Mrs.
Elsie Sweetin, the woman whom Hight induced to poison her husband.
"Hang him, but have mercy on the woman," was the way Rev. Charles Gage, pastor of the Hyde park Methodist church phrased it.

LaFollette to Make Coast Tour

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, Independent and Progressive candidate for President, will carry his fight right into the State of California, as the result of the four-and-three decision of the Supreme Court of that State, making it impossible for the Independent electors to be placed on the ballot.

During the past few days, Senator La Follette has been wavering in his decision as to whether to go to the Pacific coast. The Supreme Court ruling helped him to decide.
The senator told his close advisor: (tonight that he will go to California and tell the people of that State personally the story of the Progressive movement, and appeal for their votes by asking them to vote for the Socialist Presidential electors, who are pledged to vote for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket in the electoral college.

The senator's itinerary will be made public. It is understood tonight that unless something unforeseen happens, he will go all the way to the Pacific Coast, leaving here about October 3.

GLORY OF YOUTH IS DISCUSSED AT CHURCH MEET

Semi-Annual Rally of East Bay District Is Held
Here

"The Glory of Youth" was the subject of Arthur Ritchie, California state evangelist, addressing the semi-annual rally of the East Bay district Christian churches, held at the First Christian church of Richmond, Sixth and Biessell, yesterday afternoon and night.

About 100 delegates from other cities attended the meet, and there were about 150 in attendance at the rally. Evangelist Ritchie emphasized physical, spiritual and mental powers of youth, which should be utilized to the fullest extent, he believes.

Four speakers were heard at the meet, which started at two o'clock and continued until 10 p. m., with an interlude at 6:30 p. m. during which the ladies of the church served a dinner to the delegates. The four speakers were members of a team especially selected for this rally. They were Dr. George W. Brewster, state superintendent of missions, Chancellor Rogers, of the California Christian college, Los Angeles; Edgar Lloyd Smith, state Sunday school superintendent; and Arthur Ritchie, California state evangelist, and state Christian Endeavor superintendent.

Prof. Paddell of Oakland won applause from the delegates with a vocal solo given during the afternoon session. A nine piece orchestra from the First Christian church of Oakland entertained the guests during the dinner hour.

A vote of thanks was unanimously given the Christian Endeavor young people for the bountiful dinner served and the hospitality shown them while they were here. The concluding address was made by Evangelist Ritchie.

City Officials Hear Explanation of Water Choice

Richmond city officials joined with a hundred delegates from all cities in Contra Costa and Alameda county which attended the meeting last night at the East Bay Utility district held in Oakland.

Explanations were given by the district engineers of the choice of the Mokelumne river as the source from which the East Bay should secure its water and the entire project was gone into thoroughly.

The need for water was emphasized and the delegates were as a unit in agreeing that steps should be taken at once to secure additional water for the East Bay.

Support of the bond election to be held in November, to provide funds for securing the additional water was asked and pledged by the many present.

Under present plans water would be piped to the reservoirs now used by the East Bay Water company and the same distributing systems used in addition water would be furnished to Martinez and all other cities along the water front in Contra Costa county.

Those who attended from Richmond were Mayor J. H. Plate, Councilman W. L. Lane, E. J. Garrard, W. W.
Scott, Frank Scholes and George Black.

ASSAILS THOSE WHO ATTACKED ADMINISTRATION

President Declares Himself Against Public Ownership Of Railroads

MODERATION IS KEYNOTE

Declares "We Must Maintain Integrity of Courts or Tyranny May Follow"

(By Universal Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—Speaking on the 150th anniversary of the assembling here of the first Continental Congress, President Coolidge tonight called on the American people to stand firm "against all despotism," whether it emanates from a monarch from a parliament, or from a mob.

Moderation, the President said, marked the course of the first Continental Congress, and the American people had wrought their achievements by adherence to its policies of reason and restraint, a compassion by firmness and determination.

The President's address was obviously aimed at those who have been assailing him and his administration in the political campaign.
He declared himself against public ownership of railroads. "The people," he asserted, should continue to control their government, the arbiters of trade, and the natural sources of mechanical power.

President Coolidge connected the assault on the integrity of the courts directly with the campaign for the nationalization of enterprise. He said:
"I have mentioned the desirability for the people to keep control of their own government and property, because I believe that is one of the American ideals of public welfare in harmony with the efforts of the first Continental Congress. They objected to small infractions, which would destroy great principles of liberty."

"Unless we can maintain the integrity of the courts, where the individual can secure his rights, any kind of tyranny may follow. If the people lose control of the arbiters of trade and the natural sources of mechanical power, the nationalization of all industry could not be expected."

Banquet Held at Y. M. I. Meeting

A banquet and speeches followed the business meeting of Burke council, Young Men's Institute at 67th avenue last night. Judge W. J. Hennessy of Oakland, speaking on school questions, delivered the principal address. Past District Deputy Knowland of Oakland also attended the meeting and gave a short talk.

T. E. Keane was chairman of the committee in charge of the banquet affair. He was assisted by George Sulvers, Jerry Riordan and J. B. Mc-Phy.

The grand officers of the institute will visit the Richmond council October 9, and at the following meeting, October 23, an initiation will be held.
The initiation will climax a membership drive and a number of candidates from Port Costa will be included in the best class.

POLITICAL BALLOON PUNCTURED

Another political balloon has been punctured. For months the Hearts newspapers and allied politicians of the old machine "squadman" type, have been alleging that the Richardson budget was starving the state's wards, neglecting the blind, depriving the schools, particularly the Normal schools of needed funds, and generally bringing down about our ears in ruins the whole governmental structure of the state. To hear them tell it, everything was going to the damnation bowwows. But now comes the board of control, backed with the okey of the state controller's office, with the announcement that each and every state commission, board and agency survived the first year of the budget and that each and every one paid all bills and had a substantial balance on hand.

—Petaluma Argus.

PUBLIC WISE TO WOOD

Governor Richardson was elected Governor of California by a large majority and on a platform of economy. He did more than it was thought possible in the way of saving the taxpayers needless expense. There is one man in California who seems willing to wreck the most important institution in California and for no other reason than to advance himself and make the governor appear an enemy to education. But it is gratifying to know that the public is getting onto this man and will see that he never gets what he is working for, the Governor's place. It would be the best thing for the youth of California if this man would resign and get out. Again we say that he would do most anything to advance his own selfish ends and at the expense of the rising generation. Are we going to stand for his work? Just think what he would do if he were governor.—Lakeport Press.

POLITICAL PEDAGOGUES

These "Political pedagogues" and "progressive prevaricators" have joined forces with the "state machine" and are using their best endeavors to discredit and misrepresent Governor Richardson because the Governor insisted that a little common sense and less idiocy should be taught. The governor insisted that efficiency and economy be applied to the schools just the same as to other departments of government. The yellow press has joined the anvil chorus and Friend Richardson is put down as an enemy of the schools because he is opposed to waste and extravagance. And all this in face of the fact that he has allowed the schools $7,700,000 more this biennium than was allowed by the former governor during his last biennium.—Lakeport Press.

BUDGET INSPIRES ECONOMY

For one thing, Governor Richardson has given to the duties of his office assiduous attention. There is no department of state administration that has not come under his eye and under his hand. An achievement of special merit is his inauguration of a budget system. For the first time in the history of the state those who care to look into state affairs may discover that monies have gone into the various funds and what has been spent in each department. Of itself the budget is incentive to economy. Witness results already achieved.—San Francisco Bulletin.

A SQUARE GOVERNOR

Politically, the Journal is not of the same faith as the governor, but the writer has known him quite intimately since boyhood, and we know he is as "square as a die", absolutely impartial and just where duty is concerned, and has the backbone to stand up and fight for what he thinks to be the right thing. The governor isn't doing politics—he's doing his duty. And that is the reason why he will probably again be called upon to serve the state in the same capacity in which he is now serving.—Hanford Journal.

FUTILE AND CHILDISH

Those who are planning the "progressive" programing of the coming session of the legislature may well ponder these things and make sure that they do not merely spend their campaign damning the Governor. That is a futile and childish proceeding. No one has shown himself more indifferent to verbal castigation than the governor, and no one more efficient at it when it comes to a war of words.—Stockton Independent.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

Governor Richardson has again proved himself a real Governor, and from each and every chiropractor in the state it should be their duty to support him. He has upheld our cause from the first. Now let us show our appreciation.—Chiropractic Allumni.

GOVERNOR FIRM

Governor Richardson still stands firmly for law and order and solidly against crime and criminals by resolutely refusing to commute the well-earned death sentences of guilty murderers.—San Francisco Civic League.

Fashion Hints

By MARY MARSHALL

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The Wide, Full Skirt Still Finds Favor in Fashion

Through every change and chance of fashion for the past five or six years, there are certain of the leading French dressmakers who have been loyal to the bouffant skirt idea. None has ever been rash enough to give it chief place in a season's showing, but the significant thing is that it persists. It has been presented to us in the guise of the wide-skirted mode of the Spanish Velasquez; it has taken the form of the bouffant skirt of the Second Empire—Empress Eugenie at her height; it has been launched as the Chicago mode of the period of Louis XV and Louis XVI in France; it has been given the twist of the period of 1835 and called by the name of the clever cartoonist of the day Gavarni.

Meantime fashion has run in skirts straight and narrow and when the bouffant skirt has appeared it has been picturesque by contrast. Callot in recent collections has followed her usual custom of showing quite a number of bouffant skirts—distinctly picturesque. Chanel, on the other hand, has taken the full-skirted idea more seriously. Almost all her skirts show greater fullness, achieved by clever use of pleatings and drapery. And many good judges say that Chanel this season is exerting a significant influence on fashions to come.

The sketch shows a wide skirt that is strictly picturesque. Following the tendency of the season, it has a square décolletage and a bodice cut low under the arms. The skirt is made of layers of flesh-colored silk net left unhemmed at the ends. The top is covered with opalescent sequins, and at the knees, under the net there is a band of opalescent sequins. In the front, just below the waist, there is a pocket of net with a small, round, opalescent sequin. The skirt is held up by a small, round, opalescent sequin. The skirt is held up by a small, round, opalescent sequin.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL

ONCE UPON A TIME

Four hundred years or so ago in England full-crown daughters of aristocratic families were expected to stand at one side of the room when their mothers received callers. This rule being broken only when the mother was indulgent enough to offer them cushions to kneel upon.

THOSE SHINGLED HEADS

One Scotch girl has earned quite a benefit from the present-day fashion for shingled hair. During the season when so many English and American folk attended horse parties and hunting parties in Scotland there are many, many well-dressed women who have difficulty keeping their shingled heads in good condition, owing to the roughness of the country houses and shooting lodges. The ordinary lady's maid cannot take care of a shingled head. Hearing of this situation a clever Scotch girl borrowed money to take a thorough course in hair shingling and to buy a small automobile. Before long she had established quite a business going the rounds of fine houses in her capacity of ladies' barber. She has paid back all she owes and made a comfortable living besides!

The Husband Toomer

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Luxury of Love" etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE and her husband, ANDREW, are entertaining his prospective client, GREGORY HEWITT and his wife, although Patricia has protested that she devotes her whole life to entertaining other women's husbands for the sake of Andrew's business.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

III—TROUBLE IN THE WIND.

PATRICIA'S heart sank as Mrs. Hewitt accepted her invitation to stay with them. But Andrew beamed; this was exactly what he wanted.

"You'll come home with us tonight, then, won't you?" he urged. "You can pack your bags in a jiffy."

"Oh, my maid will attend to that," Mrs. Hewitt assured him loftily. "I never do a thing myself. I can't."

She launched into a description that fairly nauseated Patricia, who was wondering just how she could conciliate the servants. They had been complaining because there was too much company—what would they say now? And breakfast—would there be anything in the house for breakfast? Andrew always stopped at the Ritz for his and she herself had nothing but orange juice and a brioché.

Gregory Hewitt permitted his wife to reach the moment in her recital when she came out from under the anesthetic—"And I said, 'Where is my husband?' I must see him before I die!"—and then hard-heartedly interrupted.

"Sure we're not going to put you people out terribly by staying with you?" he asked. "I know these New York apartments—lived in one once myself. And it's likely to be cool enough tonight at the hotel; there'll be a breeze."

"Why, you couldn't inconvenience us!" declared Andrew heartily. "We've got plenty of room." Patricia's eyes grew quizzical. "Plenty of room!" When he knew perfectly well that it meant making so many changes. She'd give up her room—he'd been a dear when they took the apartment, insisting that she take the big bedroom for herself, but of course it had meant too that she always had to move out when there was company, and sleep on the couch in his den. Not that she blamed him for wanting the colors, however. "That's atmospheric! Quaint! Charming!" she exclaimed. "I simply love it. Do you think—my dear, I'm sure that's Gloria Swanson over there!"

"She sniled for Paris this morning—I saw the announcement in the papers," her husband declared bluntly. "Now, if we're going to get our things together hadn't we better be moving?"

His wife assented reluctantly. Patricia silently followed her but to the street. A fearful thought had struck her. The cook had said that morning that she wanted to go to her brother's wedding. Was it tonight that she was going? It was!

moment she got home, before the Hewitts saw the room!

Mrs. Hewitt was talking again. Her voice was sharp, disagreeable. "It's so stuffy here—have you ever been to the 'Chrystal'?" A friend of mine went there the last time she was in New York and she simply loved it. She said it was the quaintest place! Opera singers and actresses and everybody there—she saw a man she was sure was Charlie Chaplin, and Valentino and his wife—go there! I don't suppose you know it?"

"Oh, yes, we've gone there occasionally," Patricia wondered wearily if there was a restaurant in town to which she hadn't gone. "But it's quite a small place, and of course these dance clubs change so rapidly—one month they're very smart and the next they're deserted, you know. This happens to be the rage just now."

"This place is great!" declared Hewitt, coming to her rescue. But

"I'm sure that's Gloria Swanson!" exclaimed Mrs. Hewitt.

his wife would not be diverted. "Well, of course I'd hoped to see the 'Chrystal' because of what my friend said. She said it was delightful, so different from all the others."

Patricia sighed again. But Andrew was summoning the waiter. "We'll go there at once," he declared. "Of course you must see it." Patricia had been right. The "Chrystal" was almost empty. An Broadway society moved on the crowd had changed. Drab looking waiters moved dourly about, the orchestra played fitfully. Several young people sat in a corner, arguing bitterly with their waiter about a check. A few others danced, cheek to cheek, arms about each other's necks, as they would not have been allowed to dance at "Bardad."

Mrs. Hewitt was true to her colors, however. "That's atmospheric! Quaint! Charming!" she exclaimed. "I simply love it. Do you think—my dear, I'm sure that's Gloria Swanson over there!"

His wife assented reluctantly. Patricia silently followed her but to the street. A fearful thought had struck her. The cook had said that morning that she wanted to go to her brother's wedding. Was it tonight that she was going? It was!

WHERE IT STARTED

OUR MONEY NOMENCLATURE

The dollar, our unit, takes its name from the North-of-Europe Thaler, which has about the same value. The cent comes from the Latin "centum," meaning 100, or the 100th part. The word "dime" is also derived from the Latin—DECIMUS, 10 or one-tenth part. The quarter and half, of course, explain themselves. The eagle, or ten-dollar gold-piece, is so called because of the eagle that adorned the first design. The double-eagle has twice its value.

OAKLAND DEFEATS SOLONS 9 TO 3

SAN FRANCISCO DOWNS SEATTLE SCORE 7 TO 3

Los Angeles Wins Over Portland While Vernon Loses To Salt Lake

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—Things returned to normalcy with the Oaks again today. Professor Howard had a little class in arithmetic in which he taught the boys to count all the way to three, then chased Buzz Arlett back where he belongs, let Lafayette out of the game and went to first sack himself, and, greatly aided by his own hit in the rally round, proceeded to win a 9 to 3 game that was in doubt in only one inning of its history.

It was just one of those games up to its seventh inning, where the Solons lit on Earl Kunz with much delight and tied a three-run lead on a series of clean clouts that included the fourth solid swing that Fred Melkitz took off the Oaks' hurler. The tie lasted just a minute. With the Oakland winter leaguer, weakened in the next half, and aided by some bad fielding, allowed five more runs to pile up.

While the rest of the town was out welcoming the round-the-world flyers, the Seattle athletics staged an aeronautical exhibition for the congregation at Recreation Park yesterday. "Sids" Sutherland and his supporting cast, particularly one young man out in left field, were up in the air most of the afternoon, and "Red" Killefer crashed with Unipod Roy Brashear and had to make a forced landing at the clubhouse. The net result was 7 to 3 win for the Oaks, a most welcome tidbit to the local constituency in these tough times.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Los Angeles continued to do its stuff today and the Beavers again found themselves at the short end of the score. When the smoke of battle cleared away the Angels had won 3 to 2.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 25.—Everytime the Tigers brought in a run today the Bees went out and brought in two of them, with the net result that the final score stood 10 to 5 in Salt Lake's favor.

SPECULATOR BET $5,000 ON WRONG TEAM

Backed Judgment That Pirates
Would Defeat Giants Three Straight Games

By T. L. Cummings
By Universal Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. A certain "speculator" bet $5,000 even before the Giants-Pirates series, with an either then nervy-seeming gent, that the Pirates would take all three games. He simply made the error of picking the wrong team to do it. The Giants cleaned up by beating the Pirates 5 to 1 in a bitter final battle today.

The so-called crippled Giants didn't seem to miss Frankie Frisch or Henie Grob at all today, any more than the two previous games. The Pirates, who outclassed them for "class" with all their stars in there, looked to be the cripples in all but the ninth inning. And then it proved too late.

The story today revolves mainly around "Lil Art" Nehf, the Giants' southpaw ace, though all the Giants were armed with the winning spirit. Lil Art came out of the dugout slowly, first up, in the fifth inning. It seems he'll be talking strategy with John J. McGraw.

"Let's have a look at the ball," he requested.

"All right," he nodded after taking a good look at it. Catcher Walter Schmidt tossed it back to Wilbur Cooper, southpaw pitching pride of the Pirates.

On the first ball pitched "Lil Art" slammed a home run into the right field stands.

"Reincarnation" Subject of Address by Rev. Hampton

"Reincarnation" is definitely a Christian doctrine, asserted Rev. Charles Hampton of Los Angeles speaking last night at the Richmond club house under the auspices of the Richmond Theological society.

The lecturer contrasted the two theories of sudden creation of the soul at birth and reincarnation and declared that not only did the "church fathers" the voice of tradition and the scriptures teach reincarnation, but that it is the direct teaching of Christ himself, who declared that John the Baptist was Elias reincarnated.

"At the transfiguration," he said, "Elias came already and they knew him not." And his disciples understood, and the scriptures teach reincarnation, but that it is the direct teaching of Christ himself, who declared that John the Baptist was Elias reincarnated.

"According to the prophecy of Malachi it was necessary for Elias to be reincarnated before Christ could be born, therefore these who reject the divinity of Christ," Rev. Hampton concluded.

Mrs. W. S. Foster and Mrs. F. R. Greene, both of Berkeley, furnished the music for the evening.

STONE TAKES DECISION OVER STRIBLING

Unable Floor Southerner In 12
Round Encounter
AT New York

(By Universal Service)

NEWARK (N. J.), Sept. 25.—AG Stone, now a full fledged heavyweight, was a winner in his 12-round encounter with Young Stribley last night at the Newark Armory, although he was unable to put the Southerner on the floor and was handicapped all the way through by Stribley's wrestling and constant holding.

Stone weighed 175 pounds against Stribley's 178. Despite the difference in weights, Stribley declined to stand off and swap punches with the former marine. All of his scoring in the early rounds was done in the clinches and later with a left hook which he kept throwing at Stone's body as the marine walked in to him.

Stone subjected Stribley to a severe body attack and in the last two rounds belted him all over the ring. Stribley slipped down in the last round and then held to last it out after making a fast start.

Different Sources - Different Tastes

YOU HAVE noticed undoubtedly that water from a stream doesn't taste like that from a nearby well. Perhaps, in some such cases, you didn't like one or the other although it really was good, pure water. Largely, it is a question of what you have been used to—just like preferences in tea.

The East Bay Water Company is now serving water from two reservoirs and several groups of wells. And that is why the water served in one part of this 100 square miles of territory differs in taste from that served in another part.

The Purity is Constant

Laboratory tests of water collected daily in different sections from faucets, mains and reservoirs prove that the purity of the water served by this Company is constantly maintained. The excellent health record of these communities is further proof of that fact.

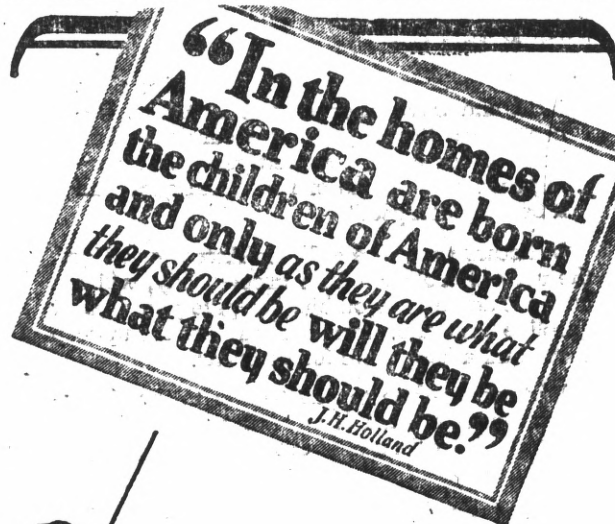

Hence the suggestion: Accept the different taste in the water you are served just as you accept a new brand of tea.

Early History of Telephone Company Will Be Told

The early and romantic history of the telephone industry in California will be recounted by delegates from this section at the annual convention of the Telephone Planners of America, to be held at the Elcombe Beach hotel in Chicago, on October 9, 10 and 11.

According to Manager G. R. Calvert of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in this district will be one of the largest assemblies ever held by the organization.

The telephone, as a means of rapid communication, received immediate attention from early pioneers of California and the first telephone instruments used in San Francisco were installed in 1878, the same year in which the telephone was patented.

The first telephone exchange in this city was established on November 8, 1901. In 1910 it served 62 telephone stations, while the present exchange handles calls from and to 2,000 telephone stations. An interesting feature of the past, one of the oldest telephone directories in existence, published in April, 1884, contains 66 pages, on which are printed the names of telephone subscribers of every town in California, which boasted the new service. Most of the communities mentioned are located in Central California as the bulk of subscribers resided there. San Francisco, at that time, had 1-00 telephone stations in use. The delegates to the pioneers' annual convention will give accounts of the history, 15 years ago, when the telephone industry was in its infancy and they were young and adventurous.

"An attractive program is being prepared," said Manager Calvert, "and the evening an entertainment will be given by the telephone companies of the district."

The delegates from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, which is the largest telephone company in the United States, will be accompanied by the delegates from the Western Electric company and president of the Telephone Planners of America will preside at the convention.

Roosevelt Named by Republicans For N.Y. Governor

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, was nominated for governor by the New York Republican state convention here today. The choice was made upon the first ballot.

Roosevelt will leave Rochester tonight for Washington, where he will tender his resignation as assistant secretary of the navy to President Coolidge tomorrow.

Colonel Roosevelt had a majority over the combined votes for his three competitors, Colonel William Haywood of New York, district attorney Guy B. Moore of Buffalo and Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of New York.

The vote was: Roosevelt, 563; Haywood, 187; Moore, 191; Tompkins, 131.

The nomination later was made unanimous by acclamation upon motion of former Governor Odell.

The Republican state platform declares that the Republican party recognizes neither, creed, nor race as a test of good citizenship, or of a disqualification for holding office.

"It could not do this," the document adds, "and remain Republican or America. We condemn and oppose any organization, whether it be called Ku Klux Klan or by any other name that seeks directly or indirectly to weaken this fundamental American doctrine either in letter or in spirit."

The platform asserts that the Republican party nationally is entitled to the confidence of the country because of its record in office and

Unchanging East Changes; Buys Wool; Discards Cotton

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Sept. 24. Taste in clothing in the Far East is changing to the profit of Yorkshire, China and Japan are no longer mainly content with cotton materials, and in the course of a few years have become easily the largest purchasers of British woolen cloth.

In three years the Chinese demand has practically quadrupled, while the Japanese have been buying so hard lately that the price of serge has risen.

In 1913 China including Hongkong, imported from the United Kingdom 6,576,000 linear yards of woolen cloth, but in the first seven months only of the present year the imports amounted to 11,000,000 square yards.

Japan, which seven years ago took 7,661,000 linear yards, has in the past seven months taken no fewer than 17,683,000 square yards.

Between them the two countries have purchased this year nearly a third of our shipments of woolen piece goods to all overseas destinations. There is also a great increase in their buying of worsted cloths, totalling 7,925,000 square yards, or nearly a quarter of our total exports.

charges the Democratic party in the state with dishonesty, insincerity and "bribe" in the conduct of the Albany government.

In view of the shortage in the world's wool clip, the enormous expansion of demand from the Far East is a factor of considerable importance. So far as China, with its many millions, is concerned, there can be no telling how immense the trade may become, provided prices do not rise too high and stifle the demand.

The saying that an inch added to a Chinaman's raiment spells prosperity to Manchester needs little modification to hold good of the new conditions that are arising.

Seeing YOSEMITE on ZEROLENE-lubricated bearings

If you haven't traveled the Horseshoe Route out of Merced to Yosemite in one of the Pierce-Arrow touring cars operated by the Yosemite Stage and Turnpike Company, you've missed something.

But whether or not you have made this trip, you'll be interested, as a motorist, in knowing that the twenty-five Pierce-Arrow cars used in this service are lubricated with Zerolene. The manager of this famous stage line writes:

"We have been operating a stage line since 1911 and have always used Zerolene. Recently we disposed of some cars that had been in our service for ten years, and during that period none of them had ever had a bearing scraped."

Whether you drive a Pierce-Arrow or a Ford, the use of Zerolene, of the proper body, will not only cut down your oil bill, but give you greater gasoline mileage, less carbon, lower upkeep costs, and a longer life for your car.

Big users refuse to pay tribute to the old superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about "eastern" oils — why should you pay that tribute?

Insist on Zerolene, even if it does cost less.

WHAT MANY LOCAL MEN SAW AT THE WONDER GOLD MINE

WHICH OFFERS INVESTORS AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE BIG PROFITS ON SMALL AMOUNTS PAID MONTHLY

The Wonder Gold Mines was incorporated under the laws of the State of California, May 26, 1924, and has purchased four quartz mining claims at Alleghany, Sierra county, California, and is selling treasury stock for the accumulation of a fund with which to equip and develop the mines, which adjoin the 16-to-1, the Tightner and other famous gold-producing mines of that district.

September 6, three auto loads of well-known and prominent Richmond citizens visited the mines. The trip had been arranged by F. J. Hulaniski, the president and manager of the company, who accompanied them. On their return to Richmond, he wrote a long and very interesting article telling about their trip, which was published in both the local papers, from which I herewith quote the following parts:

"Those who were in our party this trip were: Mayor J. H. Plate, Essas Lester, F. A. Sweetser, R. F. Bonham, J. H. Fitzpatrick, H. C. Christensen, Chas. Morissette, Sr., R. C. Steele, Robt. Fernald, and myself. At Alleghany we were joined by C. H. Weldon, A. C. Whitney, both formerly of Richmond, and several others, among them John Flynn, superintendent.

These men went all over the north part of the Wonder group of mining claims, through the tunnel and over the dumps of ore and the outcrop, examining everything carefully and gaining all possible information. They saw the famous millionaire mines adjoining hard at work turning out the millions in gold that has made them known all over America as wondrous producers. They took mining pans and panned out the ore on the Wonder dump outside the working for three or four hours, and got each and every one of them, from 25 cents to $3 a pan in gold, and threw out quartz from each pan to perhaps amount to that much more.

They milled over that ore dump, which is as big as a city business block, and got their own pans full of the small stuff from all parts of it, and panned it out themselves. They found many very rich specimens of high grade gold ore here and there, and brought them home with them.

"From all this it is judged that there is already a small fortune out and in plain sight, with ledge enough to supply thousands of just such ore dumps for many years into the future and perhaps centuries.

"The wonder mine is right in the middle of and joined by the richest gold producing mines in California or America, and there is every reason to believe that it is just as rich as they are when properly equipped and further developed. They have made their stockholders rich, and there can be no earthly reason to believe that the Wonder will not do the same and do it reasonably quick.

"Broken Barriers" Showing Today at California Theatre

The good and evil of divorce and its effect on the younger generation is the subject of Reginald Barker's newest production for Metro, "Broken Barriers," which is coming to the California theatre for a two day run, beginning today. It is a screen version, written by Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin, of Meredith Nicholson's sensational novel, and has an all-star cast.

Ward Trenton, a man of high ideals, is in love with Grace Durland. He wants a divorce from his wife who admits she does not love him. The girl, lost in the mazes of her love for Trenton, is all for breaking the walls of convention that surround them, but is stopped just in time when her younger brother gets mixed up in an affair with a pretty flapper. She goes to say good-bye to the man she loves when a denunciation occurs that puts an entirely new light on their love and brings the story to a powerful climax.

The cast includes James Kirkwood, Mae Busch, Adolphe Menjou, Norma Shearer, George Fawcett, Robert Frazer, Ruth Stonehouse, Winifred Bryson, Robert Astor, Vera Reynolds and Edythe Chapman. The picture is a Louis B. Mayer production through Metro.

Other features on the same program include "High Society" in which Hal Roach presents his lovable little rascals "Our Gang" in their latest laugh vehicle; "International News;" Larry F. Canelo at the organ.
